SISTER MARIE JEAN . ADVISER

I remember the first time I saw Rosary, the first day of my freshman year. The Gothic style, the ivy-covered walls, the fireplaces in the Dining Hall and Social Hall, all made me feel so much like a scholar — because it looks so much like a college.

No one is trying to outdo you at Rosary — if anything, someone is urging you ahead.

*To awaken inquiring minds,
to foster creative minds,
to develop judicious minds,
to strengthen reverent minds.*

When trying to pick your path for life, remember that they all lead to the same point. Although the name of the point may vary from person to person, the idea behind the name is always that of service.

In the process of finding answers, some of my beliefs, opinions and prejudices have either changed or been eliminated.

KEY TO SUCCESS

Rosary has its own distinctive charm not an insincere, put-on one, but one that is as natural as breathing. The entire atmosphere of the people at Rosary reflects this charm — from the janitors to the President.

Did you ever feel a face looking to you?
It's a funny feeling but — somehow—sometimes—
 many times—

it is snowing fat
full flakes like a
baby's wet kisses
that surprise catch
the cheek or neck or mouth in some dry moment

One of the nicest things about Rosary —

there's not time for the pointless things, but there's always time for the things we really want to do.

Rosary is living

She has shown me how to make living more meaningful

It was not a bombshell,
nor sporadic firing,
but a subtly growing
flame.

Growing to become a lady — not a "club-lady" but a WOMAN who thinks
and wonders and learns
and helps.

Rosary has helped me
help myself on becoming a woman.

I won't be a woman for some time, but my Rosary has shown
me the way to become.

*Smooth flows the course of life's calm tide
In golden days of youth
For thou hast been our faithful guide
In charity and truth*
